Developmental Language Disorder (DLD) Awareness Day Friday 18th October 2024

Dear Parents and Carers

Moor House School & College will once again be supporting Developmental Language Disorder (DLD) Awareness Day on Friday 18th October 2024.

Led by RADLD (Raising Awareness of Developmental Language Disorder), the day aims to raise awareness and make life easier for people with DLD.

The theme this year is Speak up for DLD, with children, young people and adults encouraged to tell their stories and raise awareness of this common but hidden condition.

As always, there are opportunities for students, parents and carers and friends of Moor House to show their support.

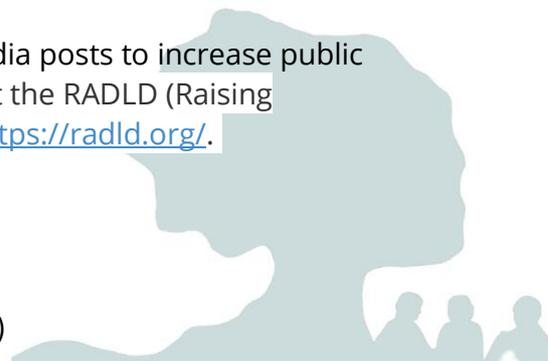

Throughout the week our students will be supporting the effort to raise awareness through various activities in school and college, whilst the 18th October will be a non-uniform day, with students encouraged to wear the RADLD colours, purple and/or yellow.

Also on the 18th October at 1pm, Parents and carers are invited to a special 'What is DLD' parent workshop, with insight from children, young people and adults with DLD, whilst we are excited to be recording a special Podcast featuring the experiences of students to highlight the extent and invisibility of DLD.

Please also look out for and share our DLD related social media posts to increase public awareness. More information about DLD day can be found at the RADLD (Raising Awareness of Developmental Language Disorder) website: <https://radld.org/>.

Yours sincerely
